Outdoor Service

Nearly sixty members and friends of the Evangelical congregation were present at the outdoor service on Sunday evening held at Griffith Park. At six o'clock a picnic lunch was enjoyed at the park, followed by the evening service in charge of the pastor, the Rev. H. R. Zager. A trumpet trio, composed of Edward and Carl Zager, and George Yenrich furnished the accompaniment for the group singing. The ideal summer weather added much to the evening service, which was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Mission Band Meeting

The mission band meeting held on Sunday morning in the basement of the Evangelical church was well attended. The usual business meeting was held and the lesson study was given. Mary Jane Wagner gave a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Esther Boyd. At the mid-year election the following officers were elected: President, Shirley Heithenthal; vice-president, Arlene Butler; secretary, Bernadine Krug; chorister, John Eckhart; librarians, Dean Pfoutz and Natela Stephan. The office of treasurer which is held by Glenn Pfoutz, Jr., remains the same until the close of the year.

A social event, which will be held in the near future is the summer Christmas tree party. All members of the mission band will be looking forward to this event.

Library News

Did you know that the library keeps for reference bound volumes of the Dixon Evening Telegraph? The library has the first number (1851, when it was a weekly, through 1861, from 1876 through 1888, the paper became a daily on December 3, 1883) and from 1902 to the present.

The library will be glad to accept any of the papers that are missing from its files. They are: 1862 through 1875, 1888 through 1901. The Dixon Evening Telegraph provides the library with two copies of the paper daily, free of charge. One copy is for use in the library; the other is mailed to the bindery where it is bound, four months to the volume, and returned to the library.

The library also has volumes of the Dixon Weekly Sun, Dixon Daily Sun, Dixon Star, Dixon Daily News, and Dixon Daily Leader.

Daily papers received at the library are: Dixon Evening Telegraph, Dixon Reminder, Rockford Register-Republic, Chicago Tribune, Chicago Daily News, and PM.

GOOD OLD Rheingold BEER

A Beverage of Moderation

Do you know just how important beer is to the farmer? Since 1933 the brewing industry has made it possible for hundreds of thousands of farmers to return to a wealthier and happier life. More than 3 million acres of farm land are under cultivation to raise the more than 120 million dollars worth of produce used annually by the brewing industry. We, the brewers of GOOD OLD RHEINGOLD BEER, purchase only the choicest ingredients obtainable. This fact, plus our 80 years' experience, enables us to make good beer. No wonder people keep on drinking it and saying, "Once a Rheingold Beer Drinker—Always a Rheingold Beer Drinker." GOOD OLD RHEINGOLD BEER costs no more than ordinary beers so try it today—learn why it is PREFERRED.

Missmans Have Anniversary Party at Park

Fifty relatives and friends gathered in the pavilion at Lowell park on Sunday for a belated celebration honoring the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Missman of South Dixon. The anniversary date actually occurred on Feb. 14.

Miss Annie Jane Hanne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanne, became the bride of Oscar E. Missman, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Missman on Feb. 14, 1900. The Rev. Mr. Metzler pronounced the ceremony in the presence of more than 60 guests. The bride was attired in a gray beaded dress, and the bridegroom was wearing the traditional black swallow-tail coat.

Following their marriage, the couple went to housekeeping on the Missman farm in South Dixon, where they still reside. They have two children, Mrs. Bessie Withers of Mt. Morris, a former Lee county school teacher, and Clifford E. Missman, who is associated with the C. K. Willett Consulting Engineers of Dixon.

A purse of money was presented to the couple in remembrance of the happy occasion. Guests attending were Mrs. Alice Missman, mother of the bridegroom of 40 years; Mrs. Minerva Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Missman and daughters Leva and Lorraine, Miss Mary Goodyear.

Mrs. Grace Carpenter, Mrs. Hannah Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Heckman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoyle and family, Mrs. Edna Pine, Mr. and Mrs. William Shippert, Sr., Arthur and Marie Shippert, Mr. and Mrs. William Shippert, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shippert and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Shippert and family, Mrs. Ida Hartman, Mrs. Nellie Rhodes, Mrs. Gertrude Lievan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glessner, all of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Missman and family, Nachusa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Missman, Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. William Remmers, Mrs. Anna Remmers of Grand Detour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shaver of Pennsylvania Corners, Miss Ione Scott of Washington, the Oscar Missmans and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Withers of Mt. Morris, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Missman of Dixon.

POEM BY FRANKLIN GROVE WRITER IS PUBLISHED IN THE AMERICAN POETRY MAGAZINE

A poem, "Wood Fires and Songs of Dream," written by a Lee county poet, Adella Helmershausen of Franklin Grove, appears in the May-June issue of American Poetry Magazine, official organ of the American Literary Association, Inc. The verses follow:

I am not burning apple-boughs, or peach, or apricot;
A greater boon the flame allows from out the orchard-lot,
For there are songs of summer streams
Of robins' nests and golden dreams.

Snowbound I wait the wintertide and pile the limb-wood high.
But o'er the red brick chimney side is vista of the sky.
And meadows, hills and brooks and streams
Are lovely in the land of dreams.

A merry song of sunshine rings above my blazing fire;
The soaring birds on fleeting wings are flashing in the pyre,
A little girl with yellow hair
Is singing with the robins there.

Miss Helmershausen is a member of Dixon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

DIXON BOYS ATTEND CAMP

Accordionists Are Planning Festival at Starved Rock

Accordion bands, ensembles, accordion soloists, teachers and band directors from all parts of Illinois will gather at Starved Rock State park near LaSalle on Sunday, Aug. 4, for an all-day Accordion Festival. Miss Marie Worley's Accordion band of Dixon will be among those appearing.

The Festival, said to be one of the first events of its kind ever staged, is expected to attract approximately 1,000 accordionists, and more than 500 of them will take an active part in the elaborate ten-hour program, which will be open to the public without charge.

The program is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. (Central Standard Time), and will continue until dusk. Each complete accordion band or ensemble will be presented in an individual concert, the length of time to be allotted to be determined by the number of players. Besides group numbers of their own choice, these bands may also feature instrumental or vocal soloists, duets, trios, and other acts of merit.

Since the Festival follows closely the convention of the National Association of Music Merchants in Chicago, several top-flight accordion artists from other parts of the country are expected to attend as guest artists. Guest speakers will include J. Bradford Pengelly, editor of Presto Music Times and associate editor of the American Standard Encyclopedia.

A highlight of the day will be a massed band recital at 3:30 p. m. All the accordion bands, ensembles and soloists will be massed into one huge band to play five selections, to be directed by guest conductors.

RURAL YOUTH HOLD PICNIC AT DEER PARK

Thirty-five members of the Lee County Rural Youth group were picnicking at Deer park on Sunday evening. The July business meeting preceded the supper.

On Thursday, Aug. 20, the group will meet at the White Pines State park.

TO MINNESOTA

The C. H. Newmans and their children, Billy and Betty Lou, left Sunday morning for Eau Claire, Minn., and other northern points. They are planning a vacation of two or three weeks.

TO LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Freda Boda plans to leave on Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will be the guest of friends for several weeks.

TO SAN ANTONIO

Mrs. H. A. White, dean of girls at Dixon high school, has gone to San Antonio, Tex., to enroll for an advanced course in botany at the University of San Antonio.

Actresses Model Swim Suits

Constance Moore, left, wears a dressmaker bathing suit of white sharkskin and a triple-strand necklace of paper-thin white shells. With her is Anne Gwynne in a one-piece swim suit of printed, two-way stretch material which resembles raw silk.

TENNESSEANS HOLD REUNION; 500 ATTEND

More than 500 natives of Tennessee and their families turned out for the sixteenth annual reunion and picnic for former Tennesseans of northern Illinois on Sunday at the Oregon fairgrounds. Officers named were:

President, Roy Ballard, Mt. Morris; vice president, Emmet Martin, Oregon; secretary-treasurer, I. D. Rodeffer, Mt. Morris; chairman of arrangements committee, Mrs. Alex Rader, Love's Park.

TO DENVER

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see dangers only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and calumnied, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Billions Are Not Bullets

The appropriation of another unpeeped billions for national defense is quite all right. The American people are in earnest about this preparedness thing, and nobody cares much what it costs, provided we get what we need and get it in jig-time.

Further categorical assurance by the President and administration leaders that none of this arms establishment is destined for service in Europe, but only in resolute defense of the western hemisphere, is just what the country needs.

The principal danger in all these astronomic appropriations is that (1) They may crowd one upon another faster than sensible plans can be devised to spend them well, and (2) People may be so bedazzled by the sums themselves that they will tend to think of rearmament as already achieved.

It is not, of course, and it will not be for many months—not in complete form for a period of from five to seven years.

Some things can be done immediately, and they are being done. There are reorganizations, shifts of existing force, sharpening up of the National Guard, recalling of reserve officers, and increased production of many items where capacity exceeds present production.

But the great bulk of the preparedness effort will become apparent with a rush only after a year or more has elapsed. A graphic representation of the U. S. armament effort during the World War shows that for many months after war was declared, military production rose but slightly. Then, as new plants and production facilities took hold, production soared suddenly upward.

So it will be today. It is a little like the hen and the egg. You set the hen on the egg. It takes 21 days for the egg to hatch. If you want more chicks, you might set 40 hens on 40 eggs, but you still don't get even the first chick until 21 days are up.

So with a powder factory or shell plant (of which we have virtually none). First you must build the plant. That takes from six months to a year. You may decide to build 40 plants. But you still don't get any powder or shells until those initial months are past and production begins.

This armament business requires patience as well as unrelenting follow-through. Not a moment should be wasted.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited)

Chicago, July 16—This outing of the Democratic party could hardly have been less casual if the Democratic leadership (outside the White House reform entourage) had decided to take a silent walk on Mr. Roosevelt.

A typical convention event was the boom for Bascom Timmons as vice-presidential candidate. Timmons is a Washington correspondent, a good friend of Vice-President Garner and his proxy in the national committee. Newsman sitting around the convention aisles, praying for excitement, decided, probably because Timmons is the only interesting character on the scene outside National Chairman Farley, to start a vice-presidential boom for him. It was a matter of retribution. Practically everyone else was running, so why not Timmons. A band and a parade were organized and Mr. Timmons was true to the occasion. He announced in a premature acceptance speech he would receive no contributions over $5,000,000, while anyone was looking.

Now Mr. Timmons is only a convention bystander, a man who has merely met the wash of the waves as they come, but the mere existence of this wave should inform you this is the most unusual of conventions.

No one likes to throw rocks at a parade, especially a national parade such as this meeting should represent, but it is clear from the activities of all the leaders that something is wrong here somewhere. It seems almost as if the schooled Democratic politicians who know how to run conventions, had decided that inasmuch as Mr. Roosevelt manifests a preference for his politically untutored commerce secretary and friend Harry Hopkins to run this hotel picnic for him, they would just let Hopkins go at it unhampered to see how bad a job he could do of it. Not a single official statement was issued by anyone of authority the first few days of the convention. The only press conferences were those of Mr. Farley and these have been pathetically reported. (The prize of the Farley conference remarks was one that he "often wondered" who is running this convention.) Brains of the White House publicity staff, Charles Michelson, has been most active in ushering debutantes about.

If there were not so many grave matters going on in the world, it would make a much more pleasant story to report.

You will catch the point from the following collection of inner events: Ex-Secretary of War Harry Woodring has the widest Democratic smile of the outing. He says he has been receiving 600 letters a day favoring non-involvement in Europe and has had to open two extra offices in his Kansas home town to take care of the mail since his mysterious retirement from the Roosevelt cabinet. . . . Leon Henderson, the reform economist of SEC and the national defense commission, tried to smoke out Mr. Roosevelt after the last meeting of the NDC in the president's office. None too subtly, he suggested he was a member of the Marching and Chowder club which was going to have its quadrennial camp meeting in Chicago shortly. His fellow members would be asking questions, Henderson told the president, and he would like to have the answer.

"Leon," responded FDR. "Have you ever been fishing?"

"Yes," said Henderson with a knowing smile. "I was fishing yesterday and I did not catch any more than I did today."

The Senate influence, which was practically extinct at Philadelphia, is in command of the platform. About twelve senators are running the show of collecting party principles. The official inside story being circulated among the delegates is that Roosevelt informed one of his officials last week he would keep his elbows out of the vice-presidential situation. Hull had declined. Douglas might be stopped by the convention. Wheeler could be drafted despite denials to the contrary. Douglas and Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, would be acceptable, he said specifically. . . . There was never such an absence of worrying and thinking at a national political convale.

Roosevelt's promise to do all of both for the collected leaders, has relieved this gathering of practically any burdensome responsibilities.

A caustic commentator (Republican no doubt) at the Farley press conference groaned aloud the suggestion that something should be done to make the convention look less like a meeting of the reichstag. . . . The convention will be dragged out to five days so hotels can get even, or better. . . . Garnerites claim 55 to 70 votes for president on the first ballot, if there is to be a ballot, but only 50 to 65 per cent of the Texas delegation will stay with him beyond the initial venture. . . . Hopkins, the presidential spokesman here, has definitely said he has "no objection" to Johnson as a V. P. . . . The presidential spokesman talks of a Roosevelt-Douglass ticket, however, as the "super" ticket which will banish politics from politics. . . . Chairman Wagner of the platform committee said he would take witnesses in the order of their application, but gave first place to CIO's Phillip Murray who was 10th on the list.

Every convenience is being afforded John Lewis and the CIO here. . . . Mayor Kelly was ambitious for Farley's job, but the party directors decided he was too big a horseshoe to hang on Mr. Roosevelt's neck in a trying campaign. . . . Kelly ran short of money for the show and at the last minute had to solicit contributions in Washington, of all places. . . . When Farley was asked what he thought of John Mack nominating Roosevelt he responded in effect: "Does it make any difference what I think?"

The draft is so strong at this convention that when Kelly stepped up to the convention microphone he was nearly swept into a vice-presidential position. . . . Leo Crowley is being touted responsibly for Farley's job and is more capable of doing it than anyone else who has been mentioned. . . . "It's a shame," said a Texas delegate, "to waste all this money for a convention that really is being held in Roosevelt's hat."

Big Air Show—

crowd expected. In addition to the program events to be presented by the show pilots at least fifty planes are expected from all over the state of Illinois and surrounding states. Chairman Dement Schuler, of the pilot invitation committee, has directed many letters to all air ports throughout the section of the country inviting pilots to attend the show. All licensed pilots will be extended the privilege of carrying passengers at times when the program is not in progress.

Committees Appointed
Joint committees of the Legion and the 40 & 8 have been appointed to handle the large crowd and the many automobiles which will no doubt be on the grounds. The length of the committees makes it inadvisable to publish them in full but the chairmen of the different committees are as follows: Admissions: Rae A. Arnold, Dudley Friedline; amplifying system: Frank J. Gorham; advertising: L. L. Shoaf; field police and parking: E. C. Risley; road police: Frank J. Vaessen; concessions: J. A. Snyder, H. F. Walder; erection of stands and fencing: Walter Smith; grand stand admissions: Joseph Eichler; passenger rides: Leo Downs; visiting planes: Dement Schuler; flags and chairs: Fred Ruben.

The chairmen of all committees are requested to meet at the Legion hall tonight after the regular meeting of Dixon Post. At that time final arrangements for the handling of the crowd will be made.

Planes to Arrive Early
Captain Davis has informed the local committee that some of the show planes will arrive in Dixon several days before the show for the purpose of advertising it over the surrounding towns. The 40 & 8 locomotive will be used in connection with the planes during these advertising trips. The light racer plane with which Captain Davis won the first prize at last year's Cleveland air races will be used in connection with the pre-show advertising and will be carried on a trailer behind the locomotive on trips to the surrounding towns. This plane will also be used by Captain Davis during the presentation of the show.

Support Urged
The members of the Legion who are giving their time in helping to sponsor the show urge the support of the public to make it the success that it deserves. So many advances in aviation during the past few years and the public interest which has been created because of the air defense planes should make this year's show more interesting to the general public. The show also gives the Dixon municipal airport an opportunity to be used for the purpose for which it was intended and results in favorable advertising for the city of Dixon and the community. The Legion members are willing to do their part to keep Dixon in the front as far as air progress is concerned and will continue to do so if supported by the citizens of the community.

● SERIAL STORY

FLYING CO-ED

BY MARY KINNAVEY MOORE

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Anne and George enroll for flying instruction in C.A.A. classes. Anne is more interested in Tony than in flying. But she promises to be a headche to instructor Dick Douglas. Forgetting all about flying as she sees Tony's car approaching, Anne walks toward a spinning propeller. Georgeette screams.

CHAPTER II

THERE was a split second that was horror for that small group of people, Georgeette, Dick Douglas, Bob Davis, and Anne. Then Dick was racing toward the girl, roughly snatching her back from the whirling metal blade. Anne hardly realized that he had saved her life.

"Of all the boneheaded stunts, that wins the prize." Dick's slow voice was full of anger and of sarcasm. "You're just the type who thinks 'stop, look, and listen' was meant for everybody else."

"You needn't use all your sarcasm on me," Anne flared. "I probably wouldn't have walked clear into that prop anyway. But thanks for saving my life."

"Listen, Miss Norris, don't thank me. We're training thousands of students all over this country, and we're not interested in fatalities. I just didn't want our safety record added to Anne's rage. In a moment she would have been in tears, but Tony's hand on her arm brought her attention to him.

"I saw you, as I parked my car," he told her. "Are you all right?" He put one arm a bit too solicitously about her shoulder.

"She's great," Dick Douglas spoke again, "with a whole field to stroll in, she walks right at a whirling prop."

"I already have said 'thank you,' Mr. Gallant Knight," Anne's anger had brought color back into her cheeks, and her eyes were snapping. "It must be grand to be a hero."

Tony, still with his arm about Anne, cautioned Dick, "You'd probably be a little nicer to this girl if you knew who she is—Arnold Dwight's her uncle and her guardian." He stopped impressively.

"Thanks, I know all that," Dick started toward the cockpit of the ship, "but she's still just a glamor girl with a rotogravure complex."

Anne stared at him in angry hatred, pulled herself free from Tony's arm, moved quickly after Dick, stopped him with a shaken, almost sobbing voice. "You're not going to have me as a student just to add to your glory."

"Come on, Anne," came Tony's urging plea, "let's get out of this."

"All right, let's," she agreed shakily, "I'm tired of being always in the wrong."

Tony took Anne's arm possessively and together they crossed to his car, while Dick Douglas reassured Georgeette.

"Forget it. You were scheduled for advance maneuvers this next half hour, so come on and see how it feels. You'd better be good or that airline pilot brother of yours will hold it against me." And in another moment they were in the air.

Illustrated by Carol Johnson.

"You're just a glamor girl with a rotogravure complex," Dick told her.

Anne stared at him in angry hatred. "You're not going to have me as a student just to add to your glory!"

"They're not worth bothering about," he gloated, "we'll show them they can't run you. Come on, Sweetheart, let's do like I've said, go on over to North Point and—come back married."

"Oh, Tony, no. I just can't."

"Why not? Do you want to stay here and be pushed around by that flying guy, and have your uncle tell you 'do this, and do that, and don't do this and don't you dare do that'?"

Anne's vanishing anger was whipped into a flame by Tony's words and, quick to see her indecision, he went on:

"They treat you like a baby, protecting you from this and from that. Seems like they don't want you to grow up. I bet if that Captain Douglas could have reached for a dunce cap he'd have tried to put it on you."

Anne made a quick decision. "All right, Tony, I'll go."

"That's it, Sweetheart," Tony exulted, "we'll hit the bright spots, and show all these people that Tony Scott and his wife don't need to go bowing to anybody."

"But I want to get some of my things at the house. Drive me there. I'll be only a minute." Anne was already hoping that she could go in and out of the house unseen.

"Don't park, Tony. Drive around and I'll be down by the student book shop in 15 minutes. There probably won't be many there now." Anne hopped from his car as he slowed down at the end of sorority row.

WALKING as fast as she could without attracting attention of the few students who were on their way to late afternoon classes, Anne reached the house. She could hear the voices of some of the girls down in the chapter room, but there was no one on the YESTERDAY, Saved from death by Dick's quick action, Anne is angered when the instructor rebukes her for carelessness. She leaves with Tony as Dick and Georgeette take off. Tony begs Anne to drive to North Point to marry him. She agrees, gets her clothes from the sorority house, leaving a note for Georgeette. In a few minutes, Anne is on her way to North Point and her wedding.

CHAPTER III

SO this was what real flying was like, Georgeette thought happily as she and Captain Douglas landed. It was true that she had spent weeks learning any number of things about flying, but most of her instruction periods had been on ground work.

She had heard lectures on clouds and cloud formations and what they indicated as to weather conditions. She had read books on the theory of flight, the history of flying, and she had thought of instruments until she saw them in her sleep. But this learning to handle the controls of the ship herself and putting it through various maneuvers was different. It was real. It was thrilling.

"You'll uphold the family's flying honor," Dick Douglas told her. "How'd you like it?"

She grinned back at him, "You might have known I'd be crazy about it."

"I suspected it," Dick told her. He frowned, and added, "Too bad your red-headed friend quit on us."

Georgeette's face clouded. "She hasn't really quit," she protested. "Anne's quick-tempered, and she's impulsive, but she'll be out here with me tomorrow."

"Well, she'll have another chance," the tall, fair-haired pilot said quietly. "But you might tell her this. No place for prima donnas."

"Don't worry about Anne," Georgeette said confidently.

AS she drove away from the airport, however, she felt a little less sure. That combination of quick temper and impulsiveness was always leading Anne into mistakes. Georgeette only hoped it would never lead her into a serious one.

Driving back toward Midland University, however, she forgot Anne's recent behavior in the glow of enthusiasm over flying. That sudden feeling of exhilaration when Dick had taken his hands off the stick, his feet off the rudders, and she had realized that she herself was flying! It was a moment she would never forget. She could hardly wait to tell Anne all about it!

She put on a green hat, with the dull gold feather, drew on freshly white doekins gloves. Then, picking up her topcoat and bag, she opened the door a crack, peered into the hall, listening intently. Suddenly, as if a demand, flying thought had come to her, she hastily closed the door, set down the bag and coat and went to the study table. She tore a page from her notebook and wrote a short message, tucked it into the corner of the dressing table mirror.

Once again, she picked up her things and went to the door, opening it cautiously. After a moment of intent listening, she tiptoed into the hall and down the stairway. The distance to the hall doorway seemed endless, but she managed it, unheard and unseen, and was out of doors headed away from the direction from which students might come.

Tony's too conspicuous car was at the curb in front of the book store, and Anne had a moment of ardently wishing he had not bought a car that no one could possibly fail to see.

He leaned over from his driver's seat and opened the door for her, urging:

"Come on, Sweetheart, that marriage license bureau will be closed."

And they headed the car out toward the highway that led to North Point.

Illustrated by Carol Johnson.

She glanced at Tony. He looked pleased with himself, almost too pleased. And in a few minutes she would be his wife.

our way to be married. Don't tell, PLEASE, until I give the word. Love—Anne."

She stared at the note for a moment, thinking fast. Anne and Tony must be on their way to North Point, the marriage mill, some three hours driving distance from Midland. Somehow she must get there in time to stop Anne. But the elopers must be half-way there by now. If she could only fly. Fly—!

AN amazingly short time later she stood earnestly talking with Dick Douglas.

"If you think," he was saying coldly, "that I have time to go chasing after that rattlebrained co-ed and her good-for-nothing young—"

Georgeette interrupted him, her voice desperate. "Dick, you must. Anne doesn't know what she's doing. If I could only talk to her, I know she'd change her mind."

"But what can I—?"

"Dick, you can get a plane and fly me to North Point in time to stop them." She caught her breath and added, "Can't you realize what the scandal would do to Anne's uncle—Arnold Dwight? It would break his heart."

That decided Dick. "All right, Georgeette, I'll do it," he said grimly, "but get this straight. I'm not doing it for your friend Anne. Frankly, I don't think she's worth it. I'm doing it for you and for Arnold Dwight."

"I don't care whom you're doing it for," Georgeette said, "but hurry!"

She glanced at her watch. Anne must have driven straight home from the airport, packed hastily, and started on her mad journey. That would have been an hour ago at least, it might have been more. If only she and Dick would be in time!

AT that very moment Tony's flashing blue roadster was streaking over the highway toward North Point. Anne huddled beside him. Her stubborn little chin was set and determined, but her lovely face was very pale.

She glanced at Tony. He looked pleased with himself, almost too pleased, she thought. As though conscious of her thoughts, he took one hand from the wheel and began patting her arm with affectionate familiarity.

Almost instinctively she drew a little away from him. At her sudden movement he slowed down the car and looked down at her quickly.

"You aren't afraid, are you, Sweetheart?"

She shook her head. "You shouldn't be. You're mine, my Sweetheart, all mine!"

He stepped on the accelerator and the car leaped forward in a burst of speed. The girl hadn't better change her mind, he thought grimly. For a moment his mind dwelt on what the newspapers would say. This would show some of those stuck-up snobs who'd treated him like dirt. Once he was married to The Anne Norris, they'd have to accept him. As far as Anne was concerned, he'd be able to manage her all right.

"Tony—"

"What is it, Sweetheart?"

"Tony, don't you think—perhaps we're being hasty?" She drew a quick breath. "Perhaps we ought to wait—"

"If you really cared anything about me, you wouldn't say such a thing," he said, his voice almost sulky.

"But—to run away like this—"

BEAR STORY, 1940 EDITION

Frank L. Randall, Plum Hollow Country club's boss who is enjoying a western vacation with Mrs. Randall, writes from Spokane, Washington: "It happened in Yellowstone. We almost brought home a mascot (in fact two of them) for Plum Hollow. We are cruising around in Yellowstone on our second day in the park and had not seen any. All at once, our worries were over. A big black bear and her cub were playing in a grove of trees about 50 feet from the road. We were quite excited and stopped for the usual (or unusual) photographs. I got out and with my camera prepared, started toward the happy family. They also started toward me, thinking (I suppose) that I had or was something to eat. I did get some good pictures but there is a strict ruling in the park about feeding the bears so I closed up the camera and started to walk around the car. Before I could get to the driver's seat, the mother bear had climbed upon the running board and had head, front feet and shoulders through the half-open back window trying to get some fruit we were carrying in the back seat. I started up slowly and she jumped off, but believe me, Mrs. Randall didn't think so much of the mascot idea. So we left them in Yellowstone. I did my best to keep them for the gang."

TO WALNUT

The High Life team will go to Walnut Friday night to play a softball team of that community. Local players have been asked to meet at Jay Curran's at 7 o'clock for transportation.

MOTORCYCLE RACES

The Rock River Riders Motorcycle club of Dixon will hold its annual races July 21 at Weller's woods, one mile north of the White Pines state park. Among the local riders entered for the events are DeForest Senn, Woody Senn, Bernard Reuter and Harry Horton of Mt. Morris. Last year's winner will not be able to participate because of a broken leg received at the Princeton races June 23. The track for the races has been changed in order to allow the racers to make faster time and has been oiled to keep down the dust.

TO SEE GAME TODAY

O. E. Rowley and John Lange went to Chicago today to see the Cubs' game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

GOING LIKE HOT CAKES

Reports on the first day of the ticket-selling campaign show that the season ducats for the night football games at the Dixon high school are going like hot cakes. The fans wanted a lighted field, they got it—and they are showing their appreciation. Already over 100 tickets have been sold—and it's only the beginning. If you haven't purchased yours yet you might try any one of the following places where the are on sale: The Candy Box, Earl James, Hill Brothers, Bales and Wilhelm barber shop, Stephan barber shop, United Cigar, Covert's, Doug Curran's, Jay Curran's.

KNACKS TO PERU

The Dixon Knacks, leaders of the Illinois State Baseball league, will go to Peru for a return game with the Parks on the night of Friday, August 2. In a game here with the Parks on May 30 the Knacks won a 7 to 4 decision. Other night games are in prospect for the Dixon team and efforts are being made to play the Peru Merchants in a night game there.

AT CENTURY MARK

The high Life Softball team, third place club of the local league, has scored exactly 100 runs to date in nine games and with only two more to go. Heaviest of the scorers has been Ott Randall with 18 runs and he has a batting average of .464.

GAMES TONIGHT

Resuming the softball games at the Airport tonight Freeman's will meet the United Cigar team in the first game and the Moose Lodge will tangle with the league-leading Reynolds wiremen in the nightcap.

TENNIS CHALLENGES

Warren Lapham challenged Otto Randall in a tennis match at the high school courts last night and the latter won with sets of 5-7, 6-1 and 6-2. Randall is No. 16 in the rankings of the club and Lapham is No. 17. In the girls' club activities Mary Imfeld challenged Bette Witzel and the latter defended her No. 3 position with scores of 7-5 and 6-4. Miss Imfeld is No. 5. Ted Mason challenged and defeated Louis Wilhelm with counts of 2-6, 6-4 and 7-5.

LEW JENKINS TO MEET ARMSTRONG IN RING TONIGHT

Little Texan Gets Great Testing in Bout at Polo Grounds

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, July 17—(AP)—Lew Jenkins, the hollow-eyed little Texan with the murderous punch, receives his great testing tonight when he fights Henry Armstrong, the welterweight champion, at the Polo Grounds.

It is just a year since Jenkins, looking none too well fed, made his first appearance in New York. An unbroken string of triumphs behind him and bulwarked by many a $2 steak, he enters the ring tonight as the lightweight champion of the world, possibly to prove he is one of the greatest little scrappers there ever has been.

His rise has been meteoric, but he has this one more mountain to cross before the present generation of experts says "Okay, Lew, you're the best we've seen," and before the old timers admit him to their hall of memories along with Joe Gans and Benny Leonard.

If Jenkins does beat the bulletheaded Armstrong tonight, then he's really good, fellows. For Armstrong, even though he might be a year or so past his very best, still is an awful lot of fighting man.

Should Be Great Bout

It should be a great bout tonight, and a man could make himself a lot of money if he knew the winner for sure. Personally, Armstrong looks the better bet, and the bookmakers still have him a substantial favorite. It's difficult to picture a skinny, rawboned boy like Jenkins absorbing Henry's body punishment for 12 rounds. Still, the Texan has that punch, and Armstrong never has been hard to hit.

Armstrong will have a few pounds weight advantage, though not enough to really matter. The title of neither is at stake. Without risking more than a few lumps, each of them is assured a very handsome purse for promoter Mike Jacobs expects the gate to total around $160,000 granted clear weather.

It all simmers down to whether Jenkins can catch the powerful little Negro with his Sunday punch and stretch him out, like he did Lou Ambers, before Armstrong's body attack saps his strength. If it goes the limit, Armstrong should win for sure.

CHIP SHOTS

By JACK FRITZLEN

Events on this week's men's calendar are the trip to DeKalb Thursday afternoon when the locals tangle with the lads of the NISTC town, and also the other guests of the day, namely, the Oregon, Rochelle and Sterling aggregations.

Next Sunday the Polo club will visit the local links for an inter-club match. The Polo boys, recent hosts to the Lincoln Highway tourney, have already defeated the Dixons once so the boys from Brinton Avenue are really sharpening up their playing in order to gain revenge. The match is set for the morning and all Dixon members are urged to attend and do their part to make the day enjoyable for the visitors from Ogile county.

Wee Willie Foster announced yesterday that all first round matches in the men's two-ball foursome handball tourney must be played by Friday evening at sunset. Three matches have been played thus far in this hotly-contested tourney. John Torrens and Mark Keller were 3 and 2 victors over Lee Shoaf and L. E. Dunkelberger. The victors had a total handicap of 29 while the vanquished had a "handy" of 41. Gene Barrowman and Leo Miller finally eased Bob Bracken and George Beier out of the tourney with a close one-up victory. Barrowman was a member of the runner-up duo last year to Detweiler and Cannon, the champs. The winners carried a 41 to 26 margin in handicap.

Way and the redoubtable effervescent Willard Jones dropped their way to a nice 4 and 3 decision over the Hal Meter and Cal Tyler team. Taylor and Jones had a 44 handicap rating while Meter and Tyler struggled along with a 22 handicap. Barrowman and Miller met Taylor and Jones in the second round.

In the INU festivities held Monday, 30 players went out on the course after a sumptuous noon-time dinner. Before starting, each player estimated the strokes it would take them to tour the course and those coming the closest were awarded prizes. Three players prognosticated their eventual score exactly. These were Frank Kingsley, Arnold Shultz and J. C. McLean. Mike Rosenberger and L. G. Simms of DeKalb missed their scores by one stroke to take second place. Wayne Pringer of Oregon, Stuart Neltz and Robert Harridge tied for third with a difference of two strokes between their actual and estimated scores. F. A. Hanson was fourth with a difference of three strokes. J. E. Hofer, Tom Larkin of Sterling, and William Janison gained prizes for being only four counts from their predicted score. Birdies were scarce, only three being made, and all of those made on hole number three. Hofer got one and Carl Buchner, Jr., had one on each round.

Dr. Harry Lazier is fleeing to Colorado tomorrow morning to escape from a pair which he facetiously dubs the "Jesse James" brothers. These culprits are none other than the estimable John Torrens and John Shauls, Jr. This

Dr. Stackhouse declared that salmon fishing is a sport far exceeding that of muskunge, and was rewarded with a catch of 14 fine salmon, during his vacation.

The distance from Dixon to the point on the Upsquitch river where they spent their vacation is 1,492 miles.

Dr. Stackhouse and his father enjoyed several days salmon fishing on the Upsquitch river and succeeded in catching 14 fine Atlantic salmon weighing from three to ten pounds. Dr. Stackhouse battled one fine salmon weighing ten and one-quarter pounds for 22 minutes before he succeeded in landing the beauty.

Rochelle Wins First Swim Meet With Sycamore Visitors, 98-71

(Telegraph Special Service)

Rochelle, July 17—Sycamore swimmers came to Rochelle Monday evening for the first of the Swimming League's meets. Final tallies showed Rochelle with 74 points in swimming events and Sycamore with 49. In the diving classes won with 31 points against 24 scored by the home team. In both, Rochelle led with 98 points, or 27 points more than the visitors' total of 71.

Next Monday, July 22, Rochelle meets DeKalb at DeKalb. One week later, July 29, Princeton will meet the Rochelle swimmers here. Diving competitors and towns they represented are arranged as follows, according to the final judging:

DIVING

Girls: 1. Georgia Bushnell, R.; 2. Sally Miller, R.; 3. Johns, S. Boys: 1. Hubbard, S.; 2. Tied Buettell, S.; Jim Peters, R.; 4. Ralph Harris, R.

Intermediate Class

Girls: 1. Betty Hubbard, R.; 2. Monie Bogue, R. Boys: 1. Hubbard, S.; 2. Bob Ewbanks, R.; 3. McNamara, S.; 4. Jerry Herman, R.

Junior Class

Girls: 1. Banks, S.; 2. Betty Hubbard, S. (conceded). Boys: 1. J. Oellig, R.; 2. Rogers, S.; 3. Peterson, S.; 4. Bud Entwistle, R.

Swimming results are as follows: Intermediate 40 Yard Sprint Girls: 1. Monie Bogue, R.; 2. Nancy Barker, R.; 3. Hubbard, S.; 4. Randolph, S. Boys: 1. Parker, S.; 2. Ronald Hanson, R.; 3. Jim Countryman, R.; 4. McNamara, S.

trio went out yesterday evening with the understanding that "one tie-all tie" on each hole. No mean golfers. Lazier found that the slyly working duo he was pitted against capitalized on wily maneuvers to make sure that there were no ties on any hole when the good Doctor was not in a position to gain honors on that hole.

Of course, the above is merely one man's jovial opinion of the matter and that man is naturally enough, the soon-to-travel Dr. Lazier who will practice up so that on his return he will gain revenge! Torrens and Shauls vehemently deny (with broad grins) that everything was not "strictly croket" as the saying goes.

Threesomes at the Country club are playing a game which holds a lot of interest. Each player takes three holes to defend. That is, he is playing against the other two players on that particular hole. If he makes a lower score than they on the hole he is "defending," then he gains two points; if he ties the low score of the other two, then there is no score; if he loses out to either of them, then he loses two points. When the end comes, there is usually no great difference in the points, unless, of course, there is a 70 shooter matched up against two 100 plus shooters.

REDS SEEM TO BE SOUNDEST GROUP IN THE BIG SHOW

Only Idle Contenders Did Themselves Any Good In Yesterday's Rounds

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's fast becoming apparent that there isn't a standout ball club in either major league this year and the pennants are likely to be awarded by default.

The only contenders in either circuit that did themselves any good yesterday were the ones that were idle and the great rush in reverse must be mighty embarrassing to a lot of people.

The soundest combination in the big show seems to be the Cincinnati Reds, who can repeat their National League championship if they don't drop dead. Even the Reds aren't irresistible and the rain in Cincinnati yesterday didn't do them any harm.

The Brooklyn Dodgers folded up in front of the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3 and increased Cincinnati's first place margin to 3½ games. Brooklyn held a 3-0 lead up until the last half of the sixth when three doubles and a single by Bob Elliott chased Tex Carleton and tied the score. The Pirates fashioned two more runs around a triple by Elliott in the eighth.

In the American League the only first division club that didn't bite the dirt was Boston, whose Red Sox had an idle day.

Cleveland Loses

Cleveland lost its third straight and the series to the weird Washington Senators, who made four errors and still couldn't give the game back to the Indians. Washington scored seven times in the sixth inning when Joe Dobson and Johnny Allen walked four men and Budd Myer and Sam West each drove in two runs with singles while the bases were loaded.

The Detroit Tigers bowed to the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-1, but continued to hold a slim lead in the league race.

The Detroit Tigers had a chance to regain the lead, but kicked it away as they have so many other times by bowing to the Philadelphia Athletics 3-1.

Fred Hutchinson, the $75,000 pitching wonder of the Tigers made his first start since returning from the minors and rendered a six-hitter, striking out six and walking none. But three of the hits coupled with one of two errors by Pinky Higgins gave the A's two runs in the third. Sam Chapman added a homer in the eighth. In addition George Caster held the Tigers to six hits with better spacing.

Champions Stopped

Johnny Rigney stopped the World Champion New York Yankees again on six hits as the Chicago White Sox plastered Marlin Russo for an even dozen and the ball game, 5-1. The Sox got six of their hits and four of their runs in the second and third innings and finished off with Joe Kuhel's 15th home run and second in two days in the fifth frame.

But the New York Giants, so-called contenders and third place fixtures in the National League, again showed up everybody in the utility department by getting shutout 2-0 in Chicago.

Harry Gumbert allowed only four hits, but in the seventh inning two walks and an error filled the bases and Phil Cavaretta singled home the winning runs. On the other hand the Giants got six hits and five walks from Vern Olsen, but hit into four double plays and left eight runners stranded, three in one inning.

It was the fifth loss in seven western games for the Giants. Before the game Manager Bill Terry had Burgess Whitehead and Tony Cucinello swap their infield positions, explaining the

Softball Protests Rejected Last Night in Meeting

Managers and sponsors of the Dixon softball teams met last night at the Hotel Dixon and erased protests of two of the season's games. The United Cigar victory over the I. N. U. and the High Life triumph over the Three Deuces now become official games and remain in the present standings of the league.

Other important matters discussed at the banquet-meeting last night included a ruling that no trading of players will be allowed in the rest of the season. The shift of Ray Holland from the Borden to the United Cigar team was not allowed by the rule of the managers and Bishop will not be permitted to change from the High Life to the State Hospital team.

Hope to End Wrangling

In an effort to end all wrangling at the park, the two umpires were made sole rulers of the games and given the right to eject players or managers who become unruly and offensive.

Those attending the meeting last night included: Oscar Carlson, Ralph Webb, O. E. Rowley, Mark Rohan, Paul Harvey, a guest of Mr. Rowley from Janesville, Wis., Earl James, Bill Bawden, Al Spinden, Harry Slain, John Slain, Al Kupper, Harry Quinn, Bill Bushman, Jay Curran and Hi Emmert. The only league teams not represented were Kellers, I. N. U., Sinclair and the State Hospital.

strategy thus: "It's my ball club and that's the way I want it."

The only bright spot on the baseball map continued to be St. Louis, where the Cardinals beat the Boston Bees 4-3 for their sixth consecutive victory. Boston made 12 hits off Clyde Shoun to nine for the Cards, but the latter sum included two home runs by Enos (Country) Slaughter and the 24th of the season for Johnny Mize.

Obituary

Bertha May Griffin was born in Lee county on January 14, 1865. She was the youngest of three daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Griffin. On October 11, 1882, she was united in marriage to William Englehart, a farmer in Lee county. After a few years they purchased a farm in the Cottage Hill community where they lived very happily, enjoying the many friends and neighbors until the failing health of the husband forced them to retire from farming. In 1922 they moved into the present home where Mr. Englehart passed away three years later. Since then Mrs. Englehart had lived in the home.

Mrs. Englehart passed away on Thursday. Surviving to mourn her passing are one sister, Mrs. Della Smith, one niece, Mrs. Villa Johnnesse, four grand-nieces and nephews, and three great-nieces and nephews. She was a good neighbor and was always loved and respected by those who knew her. She was a member of the Paw Paw Rebekeah lodge No. 264.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Baptist church. Rev. Herman Meyer officiated. Burial was in Wyoming cemetery.

Pall bearers were: George Shaddick, Henry Barber, G. B. Tabor, Birt DeJean, Charles Warrenfelt, and C. W. Barth.

Presbyterian Picnic

On Thursday afternoon a very large number of Presbyterians traveled to Sycamore Community park to enjoy a picnic dinner. The younger folks enjoyed swimming and other various activities during the afternoon. The group enjoyed the very delicious picnic dinner.

Circus in Paw Paw

On Thursday the Daily Brothers circus was in town and the attraction drew a very good attendance. The large crowd enjoyed the various side shows, the concessions and the animal cages. More such entertainment will be welcome to Paw Paw circus fans.

Family Picnic

The following journey to Calamus, Iowa, on Sunday to meet Mr. and Mrs. Hicks Chowning of Marshalltown, Iowa, and to take part in a family picnic held at Axel park; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chowning, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fightmaster, and sons Robert and Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards and son Michael and Carol and Lucille Fightmaster of Sycamore.

Rural Bridge Club

The Rural Bridge club met on Saturday evening in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Lewis Rissetter. A good number were on hand for the happy occasion and enjoyed a dainty lunch after the games. In the woman's division Mrs. Bruce Wheeler held high score for the evening, and Mildred Hawbaker finished second. For the men, Bruce Wheeler was the winner and George Yenerich took second place honors.

On Camping Trip

The Cooking unit of the Wy-Lee 4-H club left on Monday for a three days camping trip at Franklin Grove. The girls are expecting a good time and this sort of entertainment is well worth the effort.

Ward Funeral

The funeral services for William Ward who passed away on Tuesday, July 9, at Triumph, were held on Thursday afternoon at the home. Burial was at the Westgate private cemetery. Those attending the services from here were: Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gibbs, and Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Case entertained Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blee and sons Arthur and Myron, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chapman at a 6:30 p. m. Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Faber were Sunday guests at the Leon Faber home in Sandwich.

Miss Lucille Fightmaster went to Marshalltown, Iowa, on Sunday and will spend a couple of weeks at the Hicks Chowning home there.

Fred Schneider of Earlville came on Tuesday to spend a short vacation at the Mrs. Hulda Roesler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Olla Luce and family were Sunday visitors at the Alvin Johnson home in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Wiley and son Robert were Sunday dinner guests at the John Prentice home. The occasion was to celebrate Freeman's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harman, of Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, were visiting friends here on Thursday. Mr. Harman had not been back here for a visit for over 54 years.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Tarr and daughters Marion and Dorothy, and son Stanley of Whiting, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gibbs and son Charles of Paw Paw, Mrs. William Beach and daughter Eleanor and son Bobby, and H. G. Beach and Miss Alta Beach of Paw Paw enjoyed a picnic at Municipal park in Joliet on Friday.

Mrs. Freeman Wiley and Mrs. John Prentice were Rockford shoppers on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Piedlow of Beloit, Wisconsin, were dinner guests at the John Prentice home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wheeler called on Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kirkpatrick, at Waterman on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick are from Kansas City, Missouri, and are visiting his parents at Waterman.

Gene Sarazen Is on the Spot With Golf Challengers

Detroit, July 17—(AP)—Fiery Gene Sarazen, on the spot with his team of challengers, faced the uncomfortable prospect today of having to swallow a boast that his own chosen stars could whip the Ryder Cup team.

It will take some miracle of golf for the Connecticut gentleman-farmer to avert such a fate. His handpicked squad trailed Walter Hagen's crew, 3 to 1, after yesterday's rounds.

To strengthen his team Sarazen inserted himself and Lawson Little, new national open champion, into the line-up replacing Tommy Armour of Chicago and Jimmy Thomson of Chicopee, Mass., victims of an 8 and 7 trimming yesterday at the hands of Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

Little, unable to play in the opening matches, had his work cut out for him, however. He faced Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., who teamed with Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., to whip Craig Wood of New York and Billy Burke of Cleveland 2 up.

Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago got the jump at the start on young Ed Oliver of Hornell, N. Y., and light-horse Harry Cooper, Chicago veteran, and won, 5 and 4. Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan, fellow Texans, carded a 1-up victory over Ralph Guldahl, ex-open king, and Slammie Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Some balm was provided the challengers in the triumph of Demaret and Hogan. The Texans, after shooting a 74, two over par, in the morning, burned up the course in the afternoon with a 69, the day's best sub-par round.

Boy Scouts From Six Counties Explore 600-Acres of Camp Lowden

"Scores of Boy Scouts from all over the six counties of the Blackhawk Area Council are enjoying the beautiful 600 acres of timberland at Camp Lowden," reports A. A. Stocker, the scout executive.

The contests were directed by President Ballard, the winners receiving prizes donated by the business men of Oregon. The day was an enjoyable one and the officers wish to express their sincere appreciation to the prize donors who helped to make the picnic a success.

From Harvard—The following Scouts are from Troops 169, 170, 171, under the leadership of Donald Locke as camp scoutmaster and who serves as scoutmaster of Troop 171: Robert MacDonald, Robert McCann, Richard Seagren, James McCauley, Jr., Richard Johnson, Clarence Meseck, Robert Goll, Robert Wagner, Roger Wells, Eugene Sutherland, Raymond McGinnis, Charles Adams.

From Rockford—Troop 3 are Neale Skorsburg, William Skorsburg, Jack Skorsburg, Roger Stohli, and John Lindquist; and from Troop 42 are Bill Carlson and Robert Swick, Troop 10—Frank North, Jr., and Robert Cotta. Troop 37—John Garver and from Troop 13—Leonard Flood, Jr.

From McHenry, Troop 162, with Charles Rogers as camp scoutmaster—Glenn Peterson, Robert Clark, Adolph Weideman, Bob Peterson, Norman Neiss, Thos. Lawson, Larry Phalan.

From Polo, Troop 64, Dan Terry, James Terry, Oliver Zivney. From Sterling, Troop 100, Allen Wildman, and Jack Jamison.

From Tampico, Troop 101, William Hunter, and Nels Pierson. From Byron, Troop 166, Arthur McAfee.

Order of the Arrow Election The Order of Arrow is a national brotherhood of Boy Scout honor campers.

The following Scouts and Scouters were elected to membership in the Order of the Arrow with proper ceremony at Camp Lowden last Saturday evening. Each new member is given an Indian name by which he will be known in the order—E. H. Woolsey, "Charging Buffalo"; Carl Odome, "Teepee Maker"; A. A. Stocker, "Flying Squid"; Scout Don Wallick, "Sleeping Beaver"; Scout Don Wacklin, "Diving Otter"; and Scout Arthur Wildman, "Four Hands".

A large new boat was presented last Sunday afternoon to Camp Lowden by Scouts Glenn Peterson and Robert Peterson, members of Troop 162, McHenry, and sons of the manufacturer. Mr. Peterson of the Peterson Boat Co. of McHenry, Ill. This new boat was christened Monday in a special ceremony arranged by Troop 162 and participated in by the entire camp.

Eternal Triangle of Face Bringing Fame to Actress

By JOHN LEAR

New York, July 17—(AP)—The eternal triangle—but not the one you think—is bringing fame to lovely Lillian Bond as it did to Lily Langtry a generation ago. It is the triangle that forms the beauty of her face.

It was identified today by Arthur William Brown, the artist whose drawings have done much to set the standard of glamour for the women of his time.

"One feature, and one feature alone, forms the basis of all feminine beauty," he said in pointing out the haunting resemblance between the golden-haired Lillian and the "Jersey Lily" she portrays on the screen in her newest movie, "The Westerner."

"If a woman possesses it, she will be beautiful after she is 60, and if she doesn't, her beauty will never last her to striking heights."

"This badge of great glamour—if you like the word—is in the structure of woman's cheek bones. They must be high and wide, tapering off through the soft planes of the cheeks to a round, slightly firm, chin."

All great beauties of history were noted for this facial contour. Brown insisted, "Jersey Lily" Langtry, whose beauty captured the imagination of men all over the world at the turn of the century, was probably one of the most famous "glamour girls" the world has known, and the basis of her beauty lay in her cheek bones.

Today, in Miss Bond, Hollywood has a young actress who Brown feels is qualified to portray the renowned Lily in "The Westerner." He goes even further.

Check-to-Chin Line "Besides her cheek-to-chin line," he said, "Miss Bond has a perfectly shaped head and an exquisite neck-line."

"That is real beauty. It is the characteristic of the gentlewoman, of refinement; something you are born with."

Miss Bond has more than that facial triangle in common with Lily Langtry. They both were British.

Miss Bond's road to success is like that of many other young actresses, only she has traveled over it faster: from a convent to the Piccadilly cabaret as a dancer at 15, a year later in New York as a showgirl for Earl Carroll, a featured part in Dillingham's "Stepping Out," the leading role in the great success "Follow Thru," then Hollywood and "The Housekeeper's Daughter."

She is five feet three inches tall and weighs 110 pounds, has hazel eyes and golden-brown hair, and confines her athletic pursuits to early morning cantering. Hers is a double life professionally, being regarded in London as an ingenue and in Hollywood as a menace.

Pilot Killed; Mate on Fire-Fighting Duty Missoula, Mont., July 15—(AP)—A horse-pack train toiled through dense timber today to recover the body of an airplane pilot killed while on fire-fighting duty and to bring his injured companion to a waiting rescue plane.

Chet Derry of Grand Coulee, Wash., after dropping by parachute from the airplane that located the crashed plane, reported by portable radio last night that Robert Marich, 26, Missoula manager for Northwest Airlines, was killed in the crash and his co-pilot, Dell Clabaugh of Missoula, was "badly hurt."

Marich and Clabaugh were piloting one of six planes used for scouting and for dropping supplies to the 8,500 men fighting forest fires started by lightning in Montana and Idaho forests. Rain fell last night in several of the fire areas.

Derry, in his radio report, said that a sharp downdraft caught the plane as it circled over a "pothole" between a 700-foot wall of rim-rocks and a heavily wooded section.

LEE CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leake's farm home won first award in the Lee county division of the Gov. Henry Horner Farm Floral contest. The Arthur Clayton home placed second and the Frank Fessler home was third. These two homes are south of Dixon on the Amboy road. Judges of the contest were Harold Sheaffer of Dixon, Mrs. Frank Nangle of Paw Paw and Mrs. Adam Witzel of Ash-ton. A sectional contest will precede the state wide competition. The Leakes will receive $10.00 and a bronze plaque.

Mrs. Martha Anderson and Mrs. Minnie McNinch of Rock Falls who were born here and lived in this village during their youth, were the prize winners again at the second annual state twins convention at Starved Rock park July 12, for being the heaviest twins there. Their combined weight is 604 pounds.

Some inquiry having arisen as to the year in which the local Congregational church was organized, an authentic Lee county history gives the date as 1843, at the Moses Crombie residence near Binghamton in Amboy township, with a membership of eleven persons. The present building which has been remodeled was erected in 1856. In 1943 the church members can celebrate the 100th anniversary of the organization.

Harold Vivian of Rockford called on friends here Saturday. Mr. Vivian is an insurance representative with unrestricted territory in the state.

Mrs. Jessie Flanders a former resident of this village who has been making her home with her sister Mrs. Harry Lewis near Dixon, has returned to her home at Grand Meadows, Minn. She has about recovered from a hip fracture suffered about a year ago.

Betty Wasson of Amboy spent Wednesday with her cousin, Mildred Wasson.

A group enjoying a picnic breakfast and dinner at Lowell park Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leake, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walker, son Arthur, Amboy, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gross, son Kenneth, Franklin Grove, Edna Fisher, Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. William Jacob and Bobby Lane of Mendota. A decorated birthday cake with candles was baked by Mrs. Gross in honor of Mrs. Leake's birthday which was the following day.

Mrs. Grace Klemm, Walter Hanson, Robert Jahn and Katherine Steder motored to White-water, Wis., Sunday of last week where they were joined by Ruth Berry and Rita Mae Jahn and the group then went to Waukesha Beach, Wis., where they spent the day.

Twenty-six members answered roll call at the Ladies' circle meeting at the home of Mrs. O. S. Baylor last Thursday afternoon. There were six visitors, Mrs. Horner Erlenbach, Mrs. George Warner, Mrs. Fred Nicholson, Alice Parlin of this vicinity, Mrs. George McKinstry of Effingham and Mrs. Rena Brewer of Chippewa Falls, Wis. Mrs. Vernon Schnell read the devotion which were appropriate to these war times. A patriotic program was greatly enjoyed, after which the business was taken care of. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Bradford community club held a picnic at Lowell park Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cronk and Mrs. Anna Schnell of Dixon visited Roy Schnell at his home near here Wednesday night. He is slowly recovering from his recent injuries sustained when run down by a sleeping truck driver.

Miss Flora Shaw of Dixon, former resident here, attended the Mortenson sale Friday and called on friends.

A vote by ballot will be taken in Sunday school next Sunday morning to decide whether vacation shall be taken during the month of August. A large attendance is urged. The church will take its vacation during that month.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Foote and children spent Saturday and Sunday at the Chalmers Glenn home in Delavan.

Mrs. C. A. Ullrich, Mrs. S. E. Dishong, Mrs. E. A. Pomeroy, Mrs. S. L. Shaw, Mrs. G. A. Cox and Mrs. A. L. Willis attended the meeting of the Sublette Woman's club at the Union church in Sublette Friday afternoon. A program by the children of the Bible school was given after which the business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Ulch and delectable refreshments were served.

Miss Lena Grace Miller, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Miller of Arlington became the bride of Elmer T. Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Good at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, July 6, at the home of the Rev. J. F. Hollingsworth, pastor of the First

Long Jumps Between Pumps

THE SCOTS, you know, had a grand old war song, "The Campbells Are Coming!" And the correct kilties for any of the Campbell clan from the Argyll region, for instance, would be green with wide blue and black "crossings" or stripings, plus secondary black crossings, plus a yellow and white overcheck. But now if you want to be pure "Scotch" at buying gasoline, the color that means most to your own self is Bronz-z-z . . . Conoco Bronz-z-z. Conoco Bronz-z-z is the Bronz-z-z that gives you long jumps between pumps. And that statement, you can prove, isn't the least bit colored, for Your Mileage Merchant will give you one of the fascinating Conoco Mile-Dials free. This certified instrument reports your own Conoco Bronz-z-z mileage —impartially—accurately—without effort. Ask Your Mileage Merchant.

Scots from Missouri!

Consumers nowadays are in more and more of a "show me" mood. That's a great thing for Conoco Bronz-z-z because its good mileage shows. That's why Bronz-z-z could afford to introduce the frank, impartial Mile-Dial . . . free, while Your Mileage Merchant's supply holds out.
